

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Apparatus for supporting an individual is employable as either a creeper or a stepladder and includes two hingedly connected platform portions which can be locked in co-planar condition or in a configuration where the platform portions define an angle therebetween of less than 180 degrees.